Taste of Tamar Tour Familiarisation22nd January 2011*

Dear Craig & Janine

I just wanted to send you an email to say a HUGE thank you for taking us out on tour - was such a fun day and that lunch really was 1st class. I can't wait to crack into my Velo wine this week! I have told the Wilderness Team we really need to give our clients more time in the North so that they can do both the Quoll Patrol and the Tamar Wine tour.

Thanks also for making sure we got on the right road to Freycinet..the rest of the trip was wonderful but the tour with you was definitely a highlight!

Many thanks

Georgina

Craig & Janine-

Thank you again for the wonderful time in Tasmania! We thoroughly enjoyed both days we spent together and have wonderful memories of our time in Tasmania! Its cold and snowy here so no fishing for us anytime soon and we haven't seen wallabies or wombats in days :(All we've been doing is spraying red spray paint on our dogs back. HAHA!

Also here is a little poem written especially for Craig!

Take care!

Craig Craig the bush whack man
He makes it so you can see Tasmania without much of a plan
Craig is a one of a kind guide
And will even pick up echidnas on the hillside
Tasmania is his home and he will take you to his land and let you roam
He is a gourmet bushman cook
And will soon become a part of our scrapbook
Craig knows how to fish on the fly and taught us things about fishing in which we can apply
He pointed out wallabies and kangaroos
And was very gracious to me and my groom!

Quoll Patrol Familiarisation Tour - 7th November 2010

Dear Craig

Hope this email finds you well. Just a short note to say a belated 'thank you' for hosting me recently on the Quoll Patrol as part of the Tourism Tasmania VJP famil in November. My time in Tassie has been so beneficial to my role in training agents/operators across the UK - I really learnt so much and have been spreading the word since I have been back. We had such an amazing night with you - I was stoked to see so many animals (including platypus!) in the wild. A brilliant experience - thanks so much. Can't wait to head back there sometime soon! I hope you and your family have a great Christmas.

Kind regards

Glen

Sir Craig,

I know we thanked you for our walkabouts and our delicious tucker but I decided a more formal thanks was required. So here it is. I have attached my trip report. You will have to dig but you shouldn't have any trouble finding where I wax on about your contribution to our pleasure. You should know that this trip report has gone to some 150 people - (friends with whom we have grown up), church choir members (we have been singing with them some 17 years), co-workers and office mates. I have told all these people how nicely you cared for us. I doubt any of them will get your way soon but I have done my best. Again, thanks.

Travelers Feedback

"From the moment we were greeted at the airport, Craig worked with us to tailor the trip to our specific desires. We kicked off the day by visiting two outstanding wineries, each representing an extreme end of the commercial spectrum. Along the way, Craig interspersed recounts of his own adventures growing up and "going bush" with insightful educational lessons on the uniqueness of the local habitat. We capped off the outing with a round of night spotting during which we viewed an abundance of wombats, Spotted Quolls, Echidnas, and we were lucky enough to spot one Tasmanian Devil. Throughout the adventure, what shone through was the tremendous pride and passion Craig has for all the things Tassie has to offer. His enthusiasm and love for the island was infectious, and all but ensured our return visit." PAUL - CHICAGO
